

Using the Station to Station shared Electric Zipvan – please read before reserving the shared electric van.

Once your account is approved, reserve your vehicle using the Zipcar app or website to book the times you need it.

Once at the vehicle, unlock the vehicle with the Zipcar app and disconnect the charging cable from the van and disconnect from the charging point. Keep the charging cable safe in the vehicle.

Make sure to follow any additional instructions located in the van.

If you need to charge the vehicle during a trip, either pay with your own payment card and keep the receipt for reimbursement. Alternatively, if there is a payment card in the vehicle, use that card and Zipcar will pay for it automatically.

You'll need to reconnect the charging cable to the van and charging point at the end of your trip to ensure the vehicle is charging for the next users trip. Make sure to return the key to the glove compartment at the end of your trip and ensure the vehicle is locked using the Zipcar app to ensure the van cannot be accessed and the charging cable cannot be removed from the vehicle and chargepoint.

When charging the vehicle at the end of your trip, use the RFID card provided in the vehicle by the charge-point provider.

Users will be liable for the cost of replacement charging cables should the cable not be stored securely in the vehicle after each use.
